tion amongst the skeptical, that to extend the legitimacy of stock brokerage business it should be governed by laws popularly known as the "Sky Blue Laws of Kansas."

We applaud Kansas for the credit

There would have to be a colossal imagination that could picture a business man of permanent address who would use as a business asset in the stock brokerage business a selling item that would prove to be, on even most casual investigation one of the wildcat class and I wish at this time to place myself in the list of advocates for the enactment of a law, the same or similar to the Sky Blue Laws of Kansas, in Hawaii for my own protection as well as for the satisfac-
